DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bonneau.

US patent No. 6,671,258 (Bonneau) discloses Dynamic buffering system comprising:

An ATM switch (ATM switch 13 in fig. 1) provided in a network where a non-ATM traffic and an ATM traffic coexist (IP and ATM traffic, col 16 line 64) comprising a line interface (line interfaces are line cards 11 in Fig. 1 and Fig. 2), and a call processor (Queuing points QP in switch 13 and/or in interfaces 11 wherein packets are queued in a memory or buffer for subsequent processing by the device, at each QP a buffer management system is provided, col 8 lines 31-37), the line interface having determination means for determining according to a received ATM cell which traffic the cell belongs to (QMM 24 in line interface 11 decides whether to store or discard a given packet and associates each packet with the appropriate logical queue, col 8 lines 46-54 and 62-67, col 9 lines 1-7), queuing means for queuing the cell classified based on a determination result of the determination means (multiple sets of logical queues 15 for each service in interface 11 of Fig. 2, col 8 lines 49-51), and read means for reading the cell from the queuing means at read intervals based on bandwidth allocation rates of both traffics preset by the call processor (Arbiters 22 in QP system 10 schedule according to a selected service scheduling scheme, col 9 lines 7-10), as in claim 1; wherein the read means read, in absence of one of the two traffics, the cell of the other traffic (when a queue is being serviced by one of the arbiters 22 their corresponding memory block is freed, col 9 lines 11-12) as in claim 2.

Art Unit: 2661

Bonneau did not specifically disclose said non-ATM traffic being MPLS, as in claim 1.

But however
Therefore, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention that the system disclosed by Bonneau is capable of carrying another traffic rather than ATM such as IP flows like TCP and therefore one of the quality of services that could be used for this IP traffic could have been a Multi protocol label Switching system (col 16 line 64, col lines 43-47) with the motivation of obtaining a system that addresses the allocation of buffer space of different traffic flows and that minimizes processing requirements upon packet arrival.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 3-8 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claim.
